

CERTIFICATE

This is to certify that

Mr. DEVADATH A

has successfully completed advanced training in Application and Compliance Security.

The candidate has demonstrated proficiency in securing web applications, mobile applications, and APIs against modern threat vectors. The training also covered key areas such as security compliance frameworks and standards, along with hands-on experience in threat modeling techniques to identify and mitigate potential risks during the software development lifecycle. This certification validates the candidate's ability to apply secure coding principles, perform vulnerability assessments, and implement security controls across various application environments.
